Dr. Vedvyas to Join Punta Gorda Practice

Florida Skin Center will welcome Chetan Vedvyas, M.D., as the director of Mohs Micrographic Surgery and Dermatologic Oncology at its upcoming Punta Gorda location, set to open in early spring. In Florida Skin Center's new, purpose-built facility, Vedvyas will perform Mohs micrographically-controlled surgery to treat skin cancer through the removal and microscopic examination of tissue. During the Mohs surgery procedure, Vedvyas removes cancerous tissue and examines it under a microscope during the same visit, maximizing the conservation of healthy nearby tissue, while also yielding a 97-99 percent cure rate. Vedvyas is a diplomate of the American Board of Dermatology. He graduated from Harvard Medical School, and continued his training with a medical internship at the Harvard Cambridge Hospital.
